SATURDAY, AUGUST 15, 1882.

POSTMASTER GENERAL VILAS, as gone to Wisconsin to be absent until September 10th.

JOHN E. OWENS, the celebrated comedian, is said to be dying at Baltimore of a complication of diseases.

THERE is a rumor in English mercantile circles of a new Atlantic cable, to be built by Henley's Telegraph Works.

THE cyclone at Norwood, N. Y., Wednesday night, killed two people, wounded seven and destroyed $150,000 worth of property.

The depression in the Bessemer steel trade has forced two mills into bankruptcy. The manufacturers have determined to reduce production.

GEORGE'S corn crop is estimated at 40,000,000 bushels this year, a figure never before reached, the crop of 1880 being nearest, when 30,000,000 bushels were saved.

CHOLERA is spreading rapidly at Marquette owing to the intensely hot weather that is prevailing. The Pharo Hospital is rapidly filling with patients, most of whom die within a few hours after being attacked.

THE Montreal branch of the Irish National League has decided to send a manifesto to the various branches of the league and other Irish societies, and to solicit subscriptions in aid of the Irish patriotic fund.

ON Thursday there were 4,433 new cases of cholera throughout Spain and 1,643 deaths from the disease. The cholera has received a fresh impetus at Marquette from the hot weather and the disease is unusually fatal.

EX-GOVERNOR MOSES, the carpet bag Governor of South Carolina, is in trouble again. He has just emerged from a workshop in Boston for obtaining money under false pretenses, and was straightway arrested on a similar charge.

MADDEN, HOBART & CO., of Cincinnati, have offered to compromise with the Government the deficit in their barrel measurement, recently exposed, by payment of $3,000. This is refused, the Government being loser to the extent of $5,000.

FIRST Auditor Cheonoweth proposes to investigate the accounts of the Geological and Revenue Departments. All special revenue agents are engaged in investigation in all parts of the country, called to attention by the Cincinnati and Peoria (Ill.) affairs.

MADDOX, the alleged murderer of C. Arthur Preller, at St. Louis, now says that in due time he will prove Preller a liar. Maddox, a Negro, said that he got the body in the trunk. Maddox said that the body in the trunk was bought by himself and Preller, and left in the hotel for the purpose of procuring insurance money upon Preller's life.

HOW GEN. GRANT STOPPED THE PROJECT OF PROSECUTING EX-CONFEDERATES FOR TREASON.

(Louisville Commercial.)

The remarks of Major William J. Davis at the Grant memorial meeting Saturday night elicited an account of an old story. Gen. Grant, it is said, of such histo-ic importance that it should be generally known, and we have, therefore, obtained from Major Davis a complete report of what he said, as follows:

Gen. Grant, belonging to the army of Northern Virginia was surrendered by Gen. Lee at Appomattox. Receiving his parole, he went to his home in Baltimore and entered upon his vocation as a lawyer. After a short time he was admitted and held for trial on the charge of treason. Gen. Johnson wrote a letter to Gen. Grant, complaining of his treachery, and inciting the public. Gen. Grant appealed to President Johnson, who, in his Cabinet and demanded that the paroles of the Confederate soldiers surrendered at Appomattox should be respected. It is stated by a member of this Cabinet, now a prominent citizen of Louisville, that Gen. Grant, on this occasion made a wonderfully clear, precise and vigorous argument. He said that as the General commanding the army of the people of the United States was their representative, he had no right to accept the parole of Lee's army in good faith, and had guaranteed to the Confederate soldiers protection and safety; his own honor was pledged to see that this was done, the men of the Confederacy and soldiers in his army, the honor of the people and of the Government was pledged. President Johnson conducted the controversy with Gen. Grant, and supported by Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War, argued that certain Confederate paroles should be released. Gen. Grant resisted this opposition. Warned by the opposition to his soldierly, honest construction of the convention between himself and Lee, he said with great dignity and force, "I give you guarantees of safety and protection, as I have told you, and they shall be maintained. For my self, rather than these assurances should fail, I will be drawn and quartered." And went out, leaving the President and his War Secretary overmastered by his oratorical power. And ever afterward Gen. Grant stood between the distracted South, on the one hand, and, on the other, the implacable Standard-bearers whose feelings spirits whose hearts fed on revenge and whose patriotism seemed to need a sacrifice of blood to nourish it.

Jimmy Roseman's Bender.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Jimmy Roseman, center fielder for the Metropolitan baseball club, and Lynch, pitcher for the New York team, were near One Hundred and Thirteenth street, at 8 o'clock, very much excited. He sang a song or two in a discordant voice, much to the amusement of those present, and then picked up a little ball with which, lying at his feet, he drew a wide circle around him, sprawled on the floor, Lynch uppermost. The crowd interfered and then Roseman made a speech. "No man," he said, "can choke Jimmy Roseman of the Metropolitan baseball club." No man, he said, could or should choke him—and live." Lynch tried to pacify him. Roseman jumped up and down, gesticulated wildly, thumped in the chest a few beats, then, with a yell and a roar, knocked himself down, pulled his coat half off and pulled it on again and tipped over a table and several chairs. The crowd scattered. Barring the furniture, nothing was left.

A Mexican Decree.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 15.—The cabinet, after a long discussion, voted to accept the terms of the reply to be made to the representatives of the railway companies on the question of whether the railroads were to be exempted from the operation of the decree of June 22.

The cabinet decided that no such action should be made in favor of the railroads, and that the law of June 22 should be enforced to the letter.

Subsidies will not be paid, and no cent will be expended on the maintenance of the railroads.

The government maintains that it owes the railroads nothing except the small amount of subsidy which would have accrued to them since the publication of the decree, and that amounts that falling due in future months will be included in the government's floating debt.

Not Identified.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Judge Advocate General of the Navy William B. Remey arrived here yesterday from the West Indies, where he had been sent to inquire into the mysterious disappearance of his brother, Lieut. Remey.

After a careful examination of the body at the morgue the judge decided it was not that of his brother, Lieut. Remey, and it remains as much a mystery as ever.

Carboneau Report.

CONCORD, Aug. 15.—Postmaster P. Carboneau tendered his resignation to the governor as a member of the state board of charities. Mr. Carboneau made no explanation of why he resigned, but it certainly grows out of the Farnsworth case, the Postmaster having been appointed by Gov. Bowditch last spring, and the resignation at this time indicates that all is not harmonious.

Reportorial Visions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The alleged interview was written by an extra man on a morning paper here, and is not noticed by the editor. It is believed to be bogus.

It was reported by Bowditch last spring, and the resignation at this time indicates that all is not harmonious.

THE PLAINT OF THE FARMER.

The farmer leads no K life,
The C D sows will rot;
And when at E Vests from strife
The bones all A K'le.

In D we try to struggle hard
For E K'le.

If I C crops do not retard
The crops there'll B a drought.

The hired L P has to pay
Are awful A Z too;

They C K rest when he's away
Nor any work will do.

Both N Z can not make to meet,
And then for A D takes

Some providers who so R T eat
& E no more.

Of little U G he finds this life,
Sick in old A G He's.

The debts he O Z leaves his wife,
And then in P C dies.

Newspaper Report of the Big Dinner.

"All the gastronomic wonders that the combined skill and ingenuity of best chefs de cuisine could command were set before the banqueters." You know the rest. They overate themselves. This brought on indigestion. Indigestion is followed by chronic dyspepsia. Habitual attendance on big dinners have had a sad experience in this line. It is good to know what Brown's Iron Bitters can do for the confirmed dyspeptic. Mr. W. C. Welch, Pella, Iowa, was troubled in this way, but gratefully says: "I found relief by using Brown's Iron Bitters."

Base Ball.

A fourteen inning, hotly contested game of ball was played Friday afternoon by the Victors and Favorites of this city. The score at the close of the game stood Victors, 14; Favorites, 12. Three-base hits, Stewart, of the Victors and Hamilton of the Favorites. Two-base hits, Lovell and Holton of the Favorites, and Mathews of the Victors. Double plays, Wood, Hendrixson and Mathews, of the Victors, and Hamilton unassisted. The Victors desire us to say that they will challenge any club in the city, below the bridge, to play against them on Monday afternoon.

Ruggles' Camp Meeting.

Ruggles' Camp, August 11, 1885. The people highly appreciate the early morning service, and usually a goodly gathering in the tabernacle to engage in and enjoy it. It was so this morning. Among the many things to be tried for this morning was the night-dial rain that fell during the night. The dust is laid, the air is cooler and the farmers all pleased with the bountiful crop in prospect. O praise the Lord for all his goodness to the children of men.

Rev. Walters conducted the experience meeting. A large number were present. Only fifteen spoke; many others would have spoken had there been time. Dr. Bayless, of the Tabernacle, services to 10:30 Dr. Bayless opened services.

He read part of the 119 Psalm, having preached before reading, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," and "Rock of Ages" were sung. His next reading was from the 19 Psalm. "Thy word is true from the beginning, and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth forever. The Bible as a revelation of truth was his theme. It is not an invention nor does it reveal any secret of the universe. It is a revelation of eternal principles about God and his government. The Bible uncovers God—he was always and will always be. He reveals the eternal oneness and true divinity of Christ. That is the thing that nothing but holiness can give peace. Holiness puts a man in harmony with God and eternal love. The question of future punishment—not a question of the mercy of God—but a question of the law of God is often asked. The holiness of heaven shuts out the wicked. The application of these ideas was in harmony with the whole subject. There was a very large congregation for a week day morning service.

There was a children's meeting at the chapel at 2 p.m., led by Miss Ada Vonholz.

At 3 p.m. there was a dedication service for the children's chapel. Rev. J. V. Williams, of the Tabernacle, read the five commandments. Finally, brethren whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things truly are, whatsoever things just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, those are by virtue of the commandments. The thing of this principle was justice. The analysis of this principle was exceedingly keen, and in the application many doubtful less felt how far they had fallen short of the mark. Boys were won over to the cause of holiness by the application of Dr. Bosanquet's Rule Remained, absorbing the terrors, allaying the insecurities, and effecting a permanent cure. Preacher was well received, and the children's chapel, called for twenty $5 subscriptions. In a short time the amount was secured. Other subscriptions followed until $50 more was subscribed. The board of directors secured the balance of the debt, after which the congregation, with a large number of children, repaid to the chapel, where Rev. Mr. Williams dedicated it to the worship and service of Almighty God, according to the form of service laid down in the discipline.

There was a young people's meeting of interest in the tabernacle at 7 o'clock. Dr. Williams, of the Tabernacle, read the 10th verse of the 46th Psalm: "I am a little child, but yet I trust in God." He said his confidence in God was universal reason for it. The universe under law, law has no power to execute itself, yet laws are executed through the instrumentality of the law. He said that the law of God is our confidence. He said his confidence in God is not a figment of his imagination. The unexpected results of his efforts to stop him in his work. God was in Waterloo to stop Napoleon. Lincoln's proclamation was the result of God's spirit in him. The Emmanuel command God with us in less true mysteries. He said that the law of God is the most glorious fact in the universe. Christ a saving power. He said he made happy many people.

ON BOARD THE GALLIA.

A NUMBSKULL DUDE THE VICTIM OF PRACTICAL JOKES.

He is Also Exceedingly Fat and Remarkably Dull—Putting All Sorts of Jobs, Winning His Flush Cash—Chairs Overboard—Unusual Caps.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—On the last trip of the Cunard steamer Gallia there was unusual hilarity among certain of the cabin passengers. A young man from New England who comes to this country in company with a friend for the purpose of spending some of his immense income, which is said to amount to $600,000 per annum, was made the victim of a number of practical jokes. He was said to be excessively fat and remarkably dull. When the vessel left Liverpool the game commenced by betting on the run of the ship during the next twenty-four hours, and the Englishman lost.

Principal among the heavy betters was a California colonel who offered the most tremendous odds and by a singular coincidence always won. The proudest moment of the colonel's life was when he was induced by putting up all sorts of jobs on him and causing him to drink wine, sing songs and dance for their amusement. It is alleged, their conduct grew riotous, so much so that Captain Murphy was appealed to and asked if he gave the rascals a chance. Among other little amusements it was arranged three or four days before the ship reached port that all the steamer chairs should be thrown overboard.

A passenger informed and reported the fact, when a watch was put over the chairs, and they were saved. It is said that the fun was carried to such a length that one of the cabin passengers, who was extremely fond of the strip of clothing and left lying in the main saloon. It is generally the case that fun-loving passengers join together in playing harmless tricks on each other during a passage; they also bet on all sorts of things, but it is seldom that such license is indulged in as was the case on board the Gallia.

A BIGAMISTIC FAIR.

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 15.—Mary Daniels, of Terre Haute, a white woman, and Chas. A. Stewart, a negro bailing from the same city, were recently married at Joliet, Ill., the bride serving a year each, for bigamy. Mary eloped from Terre Haute, leaving a white husband, and Stewart left a colored wife. The two met at Marseilles, Ill., where they were married, but were taken up from Illinois by Stewart's dusky half-brother, who had them arrested and convicted. A peculiarity about the Daniels woman is that when she reached the prison her face and hands had been painted by some kind of paint to make them look like the appearance of a bright colored mulatta woman. A year's sojourn behind the bars has bleached out her skin to its natural color, so that when she was brought before the judge the police officials were astounded to see that instead of being a mulatta Mary Daniels had blue eyes and a fair skin with rosy cheeks, and instead of kinky hair, her head was adorned with a light-colored wig. Harry Malten had been released several hours ahead of the woman, but instead of leaving town he hung about the prison awaiting her release. She remained at the prison until the St. Louis train arrived, when she got aboard, giving her colored lover the slip.

New Drama on the Bill.
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—At the Spanish Fort opera house during the performance of the St. Quentin Opera company of the "Chimes of Normandy" there was a little episode introduced, which caused considerable amusement in the audience. In order to hurry the piece one scene was cut out of it, in which the tenor, Harry Malten, had to sing. Malten was very dignified over the supposed slight, and dressed up the situation by coming on in costume as the prison keeper, Miss Lizzie St. Quentin, who he suspected had the play cut. In the next scene, while Miss Quentin was singing, Malten, to the surprise of every body, walked on stage with a small knife hidden in his hand, and without saying a word, in the presence of an indignant audience, struck her several times across the shoulders. Miss Quentin ran behind the scenes, where Malten, in her general costume, struck him several times across the shoulder-blows, until finally one caught him. The only excuse offered for the outrage was that Malten was under the influence of liquor. Miss Quentin sang her part out, but died of tears and hysteria.

General Deuer Talks.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 15.—Gen. James W. Deuer is interested in saying "The idea of running a Democratic administration with Republican officials is a new one to me. I like the clean sweep that is being made. I am the Internal Revenue Collector Bishop put in force in Cincinnati to collect for me in the Washington, D. C., office." J. A. Quinby, a special pension examiner, located at Jeffersonville, Ind., a republican and a partisan. He holds that the civil service law is not only unconstitutional, but also unenforceable. The president has the right to appoint and the constitution contemplates that he shall be responsible for his administration. This law takes the responsibility from him. By clearing republican offices of them, Cleveland would insure the success of the democrats in Ohio this fall and he ought to do it at once."

Woodcock.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 15.—There is a widespread belief in woodcock among the negroes of Atlanta. Hundreds of colored persons are now employed by coal companies, who very terrible punishment visit upon their victims if they fail to come up with their regular contributions. Ambrose Belden, a well-to-do negro of this city, who was under the influence of one of the negroes, was beaten half to death and nearly turned from Boston, shaking his finger at him, said: "For this your entrails shall burn, and burn and burn." The next day Belden felt what he imagined must be a burning boil. When he was taken to bed, and his case baffles the skill of the doctors, who say that he will surely die. The other negroes gather at his house nightly and make the air mournful with their cries.

Investigating "The City of Tropic Disaster.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The investigation of the fire at the steamer City of San Francisco, on the Japan coast, began here yesterday. United States Inspectors Freeman and Hillman.

London Indorsed.

ZANEVILLE, O., Aug. 15.—The Franklin politicians of the county held a convention at New Concord, indorsing Dr. Leonard and the state platform and nominating a county ticket.
